What you receive as a Noyce Scholar:

- Scholarship for tuition and fees
- 18 graduate credits that may be applied towards a MS in Secondary Education at IUPUI

Who qualifies for a Noyce Scholarship?

Qualified candidates must:

- Possess a bachelor's degree with a major or equivalent coursework in science/or mathematics
- Be admitted to the IUPUI T2T Program

What do graduates say?

"Future students should not expect the road to teaching to be easy. They need to expect change and embrace it. I felt T2T was a microcosm of what I would experience as a teacher, so I hung in there through the ups and downs and twists and turns. Now I am a middle school teacher, and I know that T2T has prepared me well for my future!" Gwen Graper, 2004 T2T Graduate

About the T2T Program

The Secondary Transition to Teaching Program (T2T) of the Indiana University School of Education at IUPUI is a 12 month pathway to teacher licensing at the graduate level that prepares middle school and high school teachers. Noyce Scholars must have degrees or appropriate courses in science, and/or mathematics before entering the program. The T2T program is highly selective and rigorous, with hours of embedded field placement. As a T2T intern, you will spend the majority of your time working with practicing teachers. You will also work with an excellent group of IUPUI faculty dedicated to transforming mature, well-educated adults into successful teachers.

This is a full-time immersion Program.

Eligibility:

- Bachelor's Degree from an accredited institution
- 3.0 grade point average
- Successful completion of prerequisite courses with C or higher for content area coursework
- Passing PRAXIS I at the time of application.
- Passing PRAXIS II prior to starting the program.
- Commitment to working with young adults in an urban setting (see final page)

Benefits of T2T at IUPUI

- Mentorship support
- Immersion in content area classrooms at both middle school and high school levels
- Opportunities to experience team planning and professional development
- Coaching from university faculty
- Working with peers to create and implement instruction
- Opportunities to reflect on teaching and assessment practices
- Limited time in university classrooms with maximum time practicing teaching
- Coursework application toward a Masters Degree in Secondary Education if completed with a 3.3 or higher GPA.
