

SECONDARY EDUCATION MSED – URBAN

A Master's degree in Secondary Education for professionals

Today's urban environments present unique challenges and rewards. The Master's degree will give you the advanced skills you need to face these issues head on—and thrive in any school setting.

*The Master's degree in Secondary Education is a non-licensure program.

The Master's in Secondary Education program

In as little as two years, you can earn a Master of Science in Secondary Education with a focus on Urban Education. You will engage directly and unflinchingly with the toughest issues urban educators face, including:

- Curriculum
- Special education
- Assessment
- Teacher leadership
- Politics and schools as organizations
- Research
- Culture and communities
- Educational philosophy

By the time you graduate, you will be prepared to succeed with and support diverse learners anywhere in the country.

Is the Master's in Secondary Education program right for you?

To be eligible for this program, one or more of the following situations must apply to you:

- You already have a bachelor's degree in education or another field
- You have a teacher license in Indiana or any other state
- You want to teach at the college level
- You plan to enter a Ph.D. program in education
- You started the master's program, but haven't taken a class in more than two years

If you don't fall into one of these categories, consider our undergraduate or transition programs.
